The following material is intended to answer some general questions about business legal services. It is not intended to answer specific questions since each case is different.

From and after the formation of a business the client needs to be certain that negotiations achieve the desired result, and that all documents accurately and completely spell out the terms agreed to. Questions that come up may range from what can legally be done to tax consequences.

The operation of any business inevitably leads to the need to have an effective attorney handle litigation. This may involve collecting sums due the business. It may involve damage actions. Disputes may arise in the interpretation or execution of contracts.

Knowing what government agencies, individuals, and regulations will affect the business can be critical. Any act or omission that violates the requirements of the State or Federal Governments can be very costly.

We have had substantial experience and expertise in the field of business law. We are aware of the pressures and the personal difficulties faced by a person involved in the process of conducting a business. We will attempt to ease these pressures and work toward eliminating the cause and effect of these problems. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to call or arrange for an appointment.

Thank you for the opportunity to serve.
